

Hunters show off their prizes

Isaac Cebulla shot his first deer, an 8-point buck, on Saturday, November 4, just south of Browerville.

Oooh, the possibilities....

Callie Richter of Bertha bagged this 8-point buck on Sunday, November 6.

This 13-point buck was shot by Dave Rach on November 13—so much for unlucky 13. The deer dressed out at 220 pounds.

Mike Boesen bagged this 15-point buck, 196 pounds, just north of Rose City.

by Coach Heidi Schnettler

On Sunday, November 13 the Eagle Valley JV and C-team girls traveled to the University of Minnesota campus to watch a Gophers women's volleyball match and have their awards night celebrating the end of the season. Though their record wasn't great, this young group of girls accomplished and learned a lot this season. Going to watch the Gophers was a great way to end the season and let the girls see what can be accomplished with a lot of hard work and dedication.

Participating this year on the C-Team were: freshmen

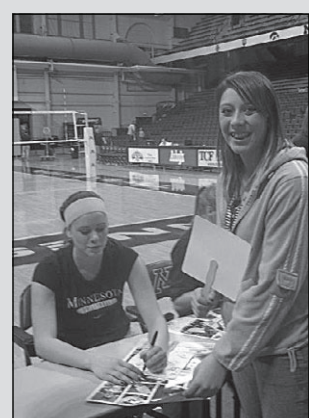

Claudia Dorman and Ashtyn Benning (setters), Megan Riedel, Kelsey Wingerter, Jamie Schultze, Brianna Sandy (outside hitters), Brittany Asfeld (middle), Kayla Hinzmann (libero).

Many of these girls had to make the step up to JV to help fill the roster and did a great job. Playing on JV this year were: junior Deandra Lunemann (outside hitter), sophomores Becky Sarff and Heather Kunerth (middle hitters) and Cindy Cervantes (outside hitter), freshmen Claudia Dorman and Ashtyn Benning (setters), Megan Riedel and Kelsey Wingerter (outside hitters) and Kayla Hinzmann (libero).

At the end of the season, the girls voted on the following awards: C-Team Best Server: Claudia Dorman; Most Improved: Kayla Hinzmann, Defensive MVP: Kelsey Wingerter; Offensive MVP: Megan Riedel; Rebel Award: Ashtyn Benning.

Award winners for the JV team were as follows: Best Server: Claudia Dorman; Most Improved: Kelsey Wingerter; Defensive MVP: Cindy Cervantes; Offensive MVP: Becky Sarff; Rebel Award: Cindy Cervantes.

After the game, the girls were able to get autographs from members of the Gophers volleyball team. Heather Kunerth was happy to get Gopher setter Mia Tabbersson to sign her poster.
